

FAFCS In Action

- Scholarship funding for individuals majoring in Family and Consumer Sciences or related area at a Florida university, college or postsecondary career and technical institution.
- Network and co-sponsor programs with other professional family-interest organizations
- Facilitate internal networking and collaboration
- Monetary support of FAFCS Development
- In-service education through district and state meetings
- Participation and involvement at all levels in the American Association of Family and Consumer Sciences
- Support, encourage and showcase high quality research and creative teaching projects
- Mentor students for professional growth and development
- International outreach through the International Federation for Home Economics (IFHE)

Contacts

Rita Burns, President
PH: 954-785-4828

E-mail: johnjrburns@bellsouth.net

Donna McGrew, Administrative Assistant
PH: 941-374-7491

E-mail: dodaenterprises@juno.com

Florida Districts

District A	District D	District G
Escambia	Baker	Indian River
Okaloosa	Clay	Okeechobee
Santa Rosa	Duval	St. Lucie
Walton	Nassau	Martin
	St. Johns	Palm Beach
		Broward
District B	District E	District H
Franklin	Brevard	Charlotte
Gadsden	Flagler	Collier
Hamilton	Lake	Glades
Jefferson	Orange	Hendry
Leon	Osceola	Lee
Liberty	Seminole
Madison	Volusia
Taylor
Wakulla
District C	District F	District I
Alachua	Desoto	Bay
Bradford	Hardee	Calhoun
Citrus	Hernando	Gulf
Columbia	Highlands	Holmes
Dixie	Hillsborough	Jackson
Gilchrist	Manatee	Washington
Lafayette	Pasco
Levy	Pinellas
Marion	Polk
Putnam	Sarasota
Sumter
Suwannee
Union
		District J
		Miami-Dade
		Monroe

Florida Association of Family and Consumer Sciences

The Source and Voice for Florida Families

What is FAFCS?

- An affiliate of the American Association of Family and Consumer Sciences (AAFCS).
- An educational and scientific organization dedicated to improving the quality of individual and family life through education, research, cooperative programs, and public information.
- A voice for the family and consumer sciences profession, integrating knowledge from diverse fields to assist with the solution of everyday problems of families.

Why Join?

- Publication and equipment discounts
- Professional development opportunities
- Exposure to current information in your field
- Opportunities for peer recognition for work in the profession; awards given in the areas of New Achiever, Extension Excellence, Teacher of the Year and Leader of the Year
- Scholarships and grants to further your education or programs
- Networking opportunities with FCS professionals across the country
- Unites family and consumer sciences professionals in the cause of serving others

Visit our FAFCS Web Site

www.fafcs.org

Who is a FAFCS Professional?

Professional Categories

- Business
- Colleges, universities and research
- Elementary, secondary and adult education
- Extension
- Home and community
- Human services
- Students (postsecondary)

Areas of Expertise

- Apparel and textiles
- Communications, art and design
- Consumer and family education
- Family resource management
- Food and nutrition
- Health and human development
- Housing and environment
- Individual, family, and community development

Membership applications are available on the AAFCS Web site at <http://aafcs.org> under the membership section.

2006-2007 FAFCS Program of Work

In keeping with the state motto, FAFCS— Helping Florida Families, FAFCS is involved with the following three outreach programs:

(1) American Red Cross

FAFCS is helping by:

- Donating cash
- Donating goods
- Donating blood
- Donating tissue
- Planned giving
- Volunteering

(2) Habitat for Humanity

FAFCS is helping by:

- Volunteering
- Educators teaching FCS classes in
 - Financial management
 - Nutrition
 - Shopping
 - Home repairs, etc.
- Building supplies
- Providing food/meals/drinks for workers
- Cash donations

(3) The Fisher House

This is a “home away from home” for families of servicemen/women who are hospitalized at Veteran’s Administration facilities and medical centers across the United States and abroad.

FAFCS is helping by:

- Volunteering
- Supplies
- Frequent flyer miles
- Cash donations

Save These Dates

March 22-24, 2007

FAFCS Annual Conference
Crowne Plaza Hotel—Airport
Orlando, FL

Theme: Mission Possible—Helping Florida Families

June 21-24, 2007

AAFCS Annual National Meeting
Reno, Nevada

Theme: America’s Cultural Kaleidoscope—Challenges and Opportunities

Family and Consumer Sciences: Viable - Valuable - Visible!